Exhibition at Dar Christine, shelter-therapy centre to support families in parental alienation cases

Happy Parenting – Malta (For Happier Children) is inviting the public with an Open Day and Art Exhibition to “Dar Christine” Wistin Camilleri Street, Victoria, Gozo. The shelter and therapy centre Dar Christine is intended to eventually offer support to families in distress because of Parental Alienation (PA).

PA is when children are being turned against one parent without justification. Often one parent is forced out of the family home with little or no access to the children. Victims end up lawyer-hopping hoping for the truth to be revealed. PA affects all races and genders world-wide and affects all layers of society.

The NGO supports PA victims with counselling, food and other useful items and eventually intends to offer the shelter where therapy will be carried out. Happy Parenting – Malta (For Happier Children) supports Malta’s first reunification therapy programmes.

The Exhibition includes works done during our NGO Youth Club, an Achievers’ Scheme project. For the first time some of Christine Gauci’s works will be exhibited. Our NGO’s instructors will be present for those who would wish guidance regarding the youth competitions which are being extended to 15 October 2021.

The Competitions include:
